COMIC CAPERS

Welcome to our 2012 Season

COMIC CAPERS

Come Blow Your Horn by Neil Simon

Bored at home with his parents, Buddy Baker arrives at the luxurious apartment of his older brother, Alan, a fast-living, girl-chasing bachelor who never lets work at his father's artificial fruit factory interfere with his pleasures. Alan introduces Buddy to New York night life and he soon takes over his brother's liquor cabinet and begins dating his girl friends. Both his mother and father show up on Alan's doorstep and he discovers that his mother has left his father. The result is a hilarious romp as Alan and Buddy struggle to find their true selves and learn some valuable lessons along the way!

January 12 to February 26, 2012 – 7 Weeks!
Featuring Bob Lane Jr. and Mary Simon

The Foreigner by Larry Shue

Froggy LeSeuer, a British demolitions expert, arrives at Betty's Georgia fishing lodge with his friend Charlie, a pathologically shy man who has trouble making conversation with strangers. So Froggy tells everyone that Charlie is from an exotic foreign country and speaks no English. Once alone the fun really begins, as Charlie overhears more than he should—including the evil plans of a two-faced minister and his redneck associate, and many other damaging revelations that fuel the nonstop hilarity of the play and set up the wildly funny climax where things go uproariously awry!

March 1 to April 7, 2012 – Six Weeks!
Starring Bob Lane Jr.

*Shows and performers subject to change due to scheduling and performance rights.

See How They Run by Philip King

In the vicarage in a sleepy English village, a new addition to the community – Penelope Toop, former American actress and the new wife of the vicar – shakes things up by wearing pants in public. When Penelope is visited by former acting partner Clive, they sneak out to the local theatre, with Clive wearing the vicar's second best suit. This begins a night of confusion and mistaken identity which ends up with five men in clerical garb, plus a host of crazy characters including a Russian convict, a cockney maid, and a teetotaling church lady out of control after her first taste of liquor, all running in and out of the vicarage at break-neck speed.

April 12 to May 20, 2012 – Six Weeks!

Nonsense A-Men!

This raucous evening of clerical hilarity finds the Little Sisters of Deer Creek raising funds to bury their fellow Sisters, victims of the "great vichyssoise massacre," who are awaiting their heavenly reward in the convent freezer! The Sisters entertain with a variety of songs, dances, sketches, and even audience participation bingo! Featuring the terrific songs "Turn Up The Spotlight," "Holier Than Thou," "I Just Wanna Be a Star," and "I Could've Gone to Nashville." Our most requested repeat ever!

May 24 to July 1, 2012 – Six Weeks Only!

Funny Business by Derek Benfield

A delightful sequel to our previous smash hit comedy "Bedside Manners," this show finds Ferris once again looking after his sister's seedy country hotel. But he doesn't anticipate the arrival of a notorious newspaper travel critic. Or that he will be set upon by assorted guests who have guilty secrets to hide. As a result, Ferris is caught up in a dizzy round of lies as he tries to protect the hotel's reputation in the eyes of the visiting journalist, a task made more difficult by the fact that he does not know which of his guests is the journalist!

July 5 to August 19, 2012 – Seven Weeks!
Starring Bob Lane Jr.

by readers of Illinois Magazine!

An Evening with Patsy Cline Conceived, Written and Directed by Carol Davis

We are thrilled to welcome back Julie Seeley, one of the stars of our productions of "The Taffetas" and "G.I. Jukebox" and one of the most talented performers in central Illinois, in this wonderful show which chronicles the career of beloved singer Patsy Cline. Julie has been performing as Patsy since 2003. Along with her live band, the Bodacious Bobcats, "Patsy" performs the hits that made her one of the most popular American singers of all time. Along with such songs as "Crazy," "Anytime," "Walkin' After Midnight," and "I Fall to Pieces," "Patsy" relates her life story in that special style that is all her own. Audience members leave the theater believing they have just experienced a wonderful and engaging "Evening with Patsy Cline."

August 23 to September 23, 2012 – Five Weeks!
Starring Julie Seeley

Move Over, Mrs. Markham By Ray Cooney and John Chapman

The play is set in the elegant apartment of Philip and Joanna Markham. Philip is a straight-laced publisher of children's books, who has reluctantly agreed to let his partner Henry borrow his apartment to 'entertain' his latest girlfriend. At the same time, Joanna Markham had agreed to let Linda Lodge borrow the apartment to entertain her lover. What nobody knows is that the interior designer who had been decorating the apartment had decided that this is the night he and the Swedish maid would try out the new round bed! Not surprisingly, chaos and confusion ensue!

September 27 to November 11, 2012 – Seven Weeks!
Starring Bob Lane Jr., Mary Simon and Pat Gaik

Home for the Holidays

Our now traditional annual revue of holiday music, comedy and audience participation is back with a new evening overloaded with music and holiday hilarity guaranteed to provide a terrific time for the whole family. Your favorite performers will fill the Barn to the rafters with magical music and Grinch-proof guffaws that will last you all the way through the holiday season – and beyond! Performances fill up quickly for this annual event, so make your reservations early!
November 15 to December 31, 2012 – Seven Weeks!

(Wednesday performances added in December. No performances on Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve or Christmas Day)
